Semester 1

Teachers: Monroe Pagel, Cam and Farrell, Julie

To say that we absolutely love teaching Ava this year would be a huge understatement. She brings so much energy and joy into our classroom each day. Ava's personality has the perfect balance of charisma, sass, confidence, and tenderness. Her ability to play cooperatively with her peers has grown substantially as she has built wonderful friendships with her classmates. Ava occasionally needs reminders to handle conflicts that arise appropriately, by using her words and accepting responsibility for her behavior. At times, Ava tends to avoid owning up to her behaviors. We continue to reiterate the importance of telling the truth and choosing behaviors that make her feel proud of herself. Ava has shown a great deal of growth academically and we are so proud of how she is feeling more confident in herself as a reader and writer each day. She is extremely smart and capable and is a thoughtful participant in class discussions. Ava tends to lose her focus during learning time and often needs instructions repeated when we ask her questions to check for understanding. Ava is at a strong, developmentally sound level of learning and we are excited to see her continued growth through the rest of the year. She is truly a joy to teach.
